1. INTRODUCTION

The Financial Advisory and Intermediary Services (FAIS Act 37/2002) provides a duty on every Authorised Financial Services Provider (hereafter “the Provider”) to offer clients a formal process to resolve Complaints.

The process to resolve Complaints must offer the client an opportunity to lodge a Complaint with the Compliance Officer and that such Complaint must be resolved within 6 (six) weeks. Should it not be resolved within 6 (six) weeks, the matter can be escalated to the FAIS Ombud for a final ruling within 6 (six) months after a determination that the Provider cannot resolve the Complaint.

The Provider is constantly searching for new ways of improving client service experience through innovative ideas and personal attention. Client Complaints will be facilitated as fairly, effectively and promptly as possible.

Feedback from clients is highly valued as it gives the Provider the opportunity to constantly advance service delivery and processes by resolving any Complaints in a satisfactory manner.

2. DEFINITIONS

Unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, the following definitions shall have the meanings for purposes of this policy:
